Dear Roy,

Having heard so much about you and your good work from a number of sources, I was enthusiastic to write to you a personal note of thanks.

I understand that you are a tireless supporter of others in your profession, and are equally committed to various community causes, including your contribution to the Prince of Wales Hospital.

As I come to know our film and television community better, it is a great source of pleasure to find how deep a passion some individuals have for our unique business, and to witness how much care and commitment people share for one-another.

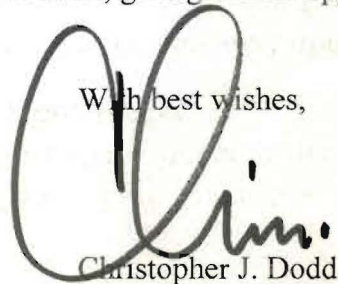

However, I am yet to hear about any other individual who has contributed as much as you Roy – sometimes requiring you to take a public position that meant you took your fair share of heat!

I was immensely pleased to hear of your Motion Picture Association Asia Pacific Copyright Educator Award at CineAsia last year.

I would like to thank you personally for the huge contribution you have made to the well-being of our film community – raising awareness about the importance of valuing screen content, and stepping up time and again to inspire others to pay close consideration to this imposing challenge we face.

I am planning to visit Australia in November this year, to speak at the Asia Pacific Screen Awards. I do hope we find an opportunity to meet, giving me the opportunity to share my thanks with you in person.

With best wishes,

Christopher J. Dodd

Thank you so much!
